Some middle schoolers might find books on this list too easy, and others might find the books on this list too hard.

If a book is too hard, try books from our previous grade level book lists.

If a book is too easy, try books from our next grade level book list.

Look at the book's call number. It's like a book's address! Books are in alphabetical order by the authors' last names.

So, if your book's call number is J CERVANTES, find the Cs in the J section and where the author's last name will be alphabetically. If there is more than one book by the author, their books will be arranged together alphabetically by title.

If you can't find a book, ask us! We are here to help!
